New Cuisines

Legacy: Cook
Culinary possibilities are as diverse as the glove of people who cook them. Wherever you go in the world, a version of pocket bread holds something delicious, and your sweet tooth can be satisfied with everything from date syrup to lingonberry jam. In this Gadge, cookup four dishes from across time and distance, and find out where your taste buds want to travel!

Steps

1. Make a dish from another country
2. Create a dish from another region of the United $S$ tates
3. Whip up a dish from another time period
4. Cook a dish that makes a statement
5. Share your dishes on a culinary "tour"!

Purpose
When I ve earned this badge, Ill be able to make amazing dishes from all over the world and way $6 a c k$ in time.
"This is my invariable advice to people: learn how to cook-try new recipes, learn from your mistakes, be fearless, and, above all, have fun!" -I ulie Child, chef and cookbookauthor

$\mathcal{T I P S} \mathcal{B E F O} \mathcal{R E} \mathcal{T A K E O \mathcal { F F } : ~}$

- This badge is all about new cuisine, so choose dishes you've never tried before.
- Make it a menu: If each dish you choose in steps 1 to 4 works as a separate course, you could have a "new cuisine" feast in step 5!
Example: Appetizer: Indian Samosas, Beverage: Southern Sweet Tea, Entrée: Stir- Fry Black Bean Tofu and Broccoli, Dessert: $\operatorname{Trifle}$

Step 1 Make a disf from another country

Thai food is often spiced with lemongrass and hot chilies. In gapan, some people Greakfast on pickled-plum-stuffed rice balls or miso soup. Ethiopians often use a delicious flat bread to scoop up lentils or veggies. Expand your palate and your culinary repertoire by going international in this step-no passport needed.

CHOICES - DO O NE:
Cook something from an area of the world you're curious about. Find a cookbook with recipes from that pace and pick a dish that looks yummy. Or call a travel agency and askfor a favorite dish from the area.
$\mathcal{F O R} \mathcal{M O R E} \mathcal{F U N}:$ Let a world atlas fall open to a page or spin a globe and see where your finger lands, then cook a recipe from that place.

Find a relative, friend, or neighbor who's an immigrant. Ask that person for a personal recipe that represents their country of origin and cook it with them.
$O R$

Let a particular ingredient be your tour guide. Check out the international section of a grocery store or an international specialty store for an ingredient-a spice, a dried fruit, $a$ canned good. Make a disf that uses that ingredient.

When you find a recipe, ask yourself these questions:

- Can I find the ingredients? Is there a good substitute for anything that's hard to find?
- Will I need special equipment?
- How will I learn any specific cooking techniques?
- Do I want to adjust any ingredients to better fit my approach to healthy living?

Step 2 Discover a disf from another region of the United StatesSouthern barbecue, New England clam chowder, Tex-Mex tacos, $\mathcal{N a t i v e ~ A m e r i c a n ~ f r y ~}$ bread-this step will take you on a stateside road trip without leaving your kitchen.

$\mathcal{C H O}$ ICES - DO O $\mathcal{N E}$ :
Put together a meal based on a food-related news story. Find a story about another region in the United $S$ tates. It could be about shrimp fisfing in Louisiana or apple orchards in Wasfington State. Ulse that story to inspire the dish you choose.
$\mathcal{F O R} \mathcal{M O R E} \mathcal{F Z} \mathcal{N}:$ Write a short piece on the dish, take a picture, and submit it and a recipe to a localnewspaper from the are a that inspired you.
$O \mathcal{R}$

Research and cook a regional specialty that's become a cultural phenomenon. The Toll $\mathcal{H o u s e}$ cookie was invented at the Toll House Inn in Boston. The Cobb salad came from a lucky accident with leftovers at the original $\mathcal{B r o w n} \mathcal{D e r b y ~ r e s t a u r a n t ~ i n ~ H o l l y w o o d . ~}$
$O \mathcal{R}$

Find out fow well you know your region. Visit the local fistory center or library, or ask an elderly community member, for a recipe from your fometown that's become a phenomenon (or needs your help to gain popularity!) Cookit. Did you match the localstandard for phenomenal? Does it taste like you expected it to?

Step 3 Whip up a disf from another time period

 Scour the past for a tasty dish, and cook up a piece of kistory.CHO ICES - DO O NE:
$\mathcal{T}$ y a recipe inspired by a fistorical book or movie. Did youread Little House on the Prairie and wonder what "headcheese" was? Or watch The Sound of Music and really want to try a Viennese pastry?
$\mathcal{F O R} \mathcal{M O} \mathcal{R E} \mathcal{F} \mathcal{U} \mathbb{N}: ~ \mathscr{M a k e}$ up a recipe for a fantasy food from your favorite fantasy novel.

Ask a grandparent or other relative for an old family recipe. Get the ir felp to make it. What was your grandmother's favorite pasta? Did your great-uncle love anything with tomatoes? Is there a favorite dish at every family gathering? Learn to make a recipe that's been passed down in your family.
$P_{i c} k$ a piece of the past that excites you. Find a classic recipe from that time and place; it might be from the Renaissance, pirate lore, $g$ ulie te Low's time, or the Wild West. Where and why was this recipe served? Maybe you can find out what it was supposed to taste like back then to know how your version compares.

Step 4 Cooka disf that makes a statement

The food that's on your plate sends a message-your choices about health; convenience, the environment, and religion all show up in what you choose to eat.

CHOICES - DO ONE:
Take a processed food you love and make a homemade version. It might be a packaged gingerbread, a cream-filled cupcake, or a ruffled potato chip. Compare your ingredients with the list on the package. Knowing where your food comes from can be a challenge, especially if the package has a list of chemical ingredients that seems 10 miles long!

$O R$

Choose a veggie protein and find a recipe that features it. How about tofu, tempeh, seitan, or beans and rice? Or look at howvegan creativity has sparked some delicious baked goods that substitute plant-based ingredients for dairy, eggs, and evenhoney. (Think darkchocolate chips, applesauce, soy milk, or 6lack beans in your Grownie mix!)
$\mathcal{F O R} \operatorname{MORE} \mathcal{F U N}:$ Take your favorite cake or cookie recipe and make it vegan!
$O \mathcal{R}$
Try a recipe for a special diet. Aska friend, neighbor, or family member who follows a special nutritional plan or diet for a recipe. Youmight try a kosker Kugel, gluten-free bread, or a raw-food feast (rawfoodists eat only vegetables, nuts, seeds, and fruits that have never beenheated above $115^{\circ} \mathcal{F}$ ).
$\mathcal{F O R} \mathcal{M O R E} \mathcal{F} \mathcal{N} \mathbb{N}:$ Take a favorite dish and make it fit a specific diet. What substitution would you make in a $\mathcal{P B}$ \&I sandwich to feed someone who has a peanut allergy?

Step 5 Share your disfies on a culinary "tour"!

What's the point of kaving newfound knowledge, especially in the cooking arena, if you're going to keep it to yourself? Time to share! Get feedback, too-that's how you keep on cooking.

CHOICES - DO ONX:
Throw a potluck party! Pick one of the themes from steps 1 to 4 and askguests to 6 ring something that fits the 6ill. Or, your friends and Girl Scout sisters could throw a potluck, in which each person brings a favorite dish.
$\mathcal{F O R} \operatorname{MORE} \mathcal{F} \mathcal{Z N}: \mathcal{A s}$ girls did in the 1980 Exploring $\mathcal{F o o d s}$ badge, add a tasting party to your potluck. Select two or three foods from each food group. Pick unusual foods so everyone gets to taste something they've never eaten before.
$O \mathcal{R}$

Host a "new cuisine" party. Cookup the entire mealfor your friends or your family. Create a menufor a feast based on one -or all-of the dishes you made in steps 1 to 4.

$O \mathcal{R}$

$\mathcal{H o l d}$ a progressive dinner with friends or your Girl Scout group. Have each personcook one part of the meal. Choose dishes you made for this Gadge or others from steps 1 to 4 . Thengo from home to home progressing through dinner, from appetizer all the way through dessert.

M ore to EXPLORE: Ule your progressive dinner to honor GirlScout volunteers, moms or dads on Mother's Day or Father's Day, or to celebrate something special.

Add the Badge to Your Iourney
Your Leadersfip I ourneys invite you to thinkglobally and te am up locally for action. So, when you get to step 5, why not make and share your dishes with community partners whove helped you with your Take Action project? That's a great way to keep your networkgrowing.
$\mathcal{N o t}$ that I've earned this badge, I can give service by:

- Helping family or friends challenge their taste buds
- Suggesting newmealideas to the schoolcafeteria
- Organizing a luncf-club where everyone shares new dishes

I'm inspired to:
